Hermannsburg art exhibition

The exhibition of a private collection from the Hermannsburg (home of Albert Namatjira) school of watercolour and dot paintings was held in Edithburgh Institute 26th-28th January. The collection was built-up over 30 years by Roger Hogben whilst he was working in the NT. Cost of admission was a gold coin and the money raised goes to maintenance of the Tidal Pool. Roger and wife Jan now reside in Brentwood.

The exhibition was hosted by the Edithburgh Progress Association and was officially opened by Councillor Darren Braun on Saturday 27th.

Since thanks to all who supported this fundraiser which help pay for the insurance which is necessary to keep the shop operating.

Triple Js Hottest 100 is the largest music poll in the world. This year 2,386,133 people voted.

It began in 1988 with a poll that asked voters for their favourite songs of all time. Listeners submitted 10 songs via the postal system and the results were announced in March 1989. The first winner was Joy Divisions "Love Will Tear Us Apart" which also won the following year.

In order to stop the same songs winning every year the rules were changed. So since then listeners have voted for their favourite songs released in the past 12 months. Denis Leary's comedy album "Asshole" got number one in the new count down, followed by The Cranberries "Zombie" in 1994 and Oasis "Wonderwall" the following year.

This years winner was Kendrick Lamar, an American rapper, with his song "Humble". He is the first person of colour to top the chart. Sixty five of the top 100 songs came from Australian artists.

The Hottest 100 also supports AIME, an indigenous mentoring program helping to keep aboriginal kids in school. Listeners raised $220,000 this year.

All over Australia and around the world people hold parties during the countdown. People have various side competitions to guess at the voting outcome. Edithburgh has at least one such party which has been staged annually since 2002. There is a bragworthy cup to compete for which this year was taken out by Chloe.

When checking emails on the 15th January, I found I had received one from the RAA promoting the online edition of their publication "samotor". On reading further I found the following excerpt and I thought Cooe readers might be interested. Thank you RAA!

'Not all of South Australia's great swimming spots are found at the shoreline – this state is brimming with unique and wonderful lakes, ponds, pools and even hot springs. With many more hot days to come in 2018, we've put together a list of eight of our state's best places to swim this summer.'

Edithburgh tidal pool

Location: Yorke Peninsula

The waters of this beach-side swimming pool, the only one of its kind in South Australia, are refreshed at every high tide. A fun bit of history: the Edithburgh ocean pool was first built on the southern side of the jetty in the 1800s, to be used by women only as there was no mixed bathing at the time. They later decided to build another pool for the men, which is where the pool is today.'

"NUGGETTS NOSH"

"CORNISH PASTIES"

INGREDIENTS:- 2 pkts frozen puff pastry, 1 kg lean beef steak or lamb chop meat off the bone, 4 potatoes, 1 turnip, 1 swede, 2 carrots, 2 onions, 400g peeled pumpkin, salt & pepper, 1 egg.

METHOD:- Chop the steak the hand fairly finely, but not in a blender, that's too fine. Peeled and finely chop vegetables, mix all together with good amount of salt and pepper, please don't skimp on this. Defrost your pastry fully. Grab a side plate and trace out a circle with a knife on the pastry, about 6". Pop a good handful of mixed meat and veg into the centre of pastry, move it along the length, leaving a 1/2" border, brush with beaten egg, and fold pastry over, now you can either crimp it between thumbs or use a fork and press edges together, repeat till it's been used up. Don't to mix pastry scraps together and re-roll to use again for more pasties. Pop all pasties on a tray lined with baking paper, on bake in a pre-heated oven on 190°, these pasties can be frozen once cooked or cooled, if you choose.

These are the pasties of my youth, my mum was a brilliant cook, who could take a pound of mince, and feed seven people easily. Thanks mum for you love and knowledge. Happy noshing folks.

An interesting piece of art which is very evocative. The artist is Edithburgh's own Jennifer Robyn. Jen no longer has the original though as it has sold.

Parkrun begins in Edithburgh

Edithburgh joins with the rest of the world by beginning the world wide phenomenon known as parkrun. It officially started on January 20 and is the 21st in South Australia. The idea began in London 13 years ago. It is a running event and the course is 5 kilometres long and takes place every Saturday morning not only here but in 18 other countries. The course doesn't change and is a section of the Walk the Yorke trail which is at the northern end of the town. The run starts at 8am but a pre-run brief occurs at 7.45am. It is free but people interested should register online through the parkrun website, print their barcode and take it to the start line. It took a year for the event volunteer organisers Danielle Johns and Zoe Weir to plan and set up. For more info see Edithburgh parkrun's Facebook page.

FROM THE MUSEUM

The museum has need of a filing cabinet. Do you have one you no longer need and would be happy to donate it to the museum? If you do please ring Jan Geytenbeek on 8852 6273. The museum would be delighted to hear from you.

The museum would like to record and exhibit items or photos from any of Edithburgh's past businesses, of which there has been a number. It doesn't matter how big, small or what the business was. It is important historically that whilst the business may no longer exist in the town, evidence of its involvement in the town should be kept for future generations. The museum would be happy to receive any items you may have either as a donation or on loan. If you prefer, any photos could be scanned and returned and items could be photographed then also returned. Provenance (name, dates, location etc) relating to the business and any memorabilia you may have would also be needed if possible. If you would like to be involved with exhibiting past businesses at the museum please contact Jan Geytenbeek on 8852 6273.

The museum has a compiled a collection of Edithburgh School photos which have been taken over the years but unfortunately some lack names or students have been unable to be identified. There are also photographic gaps through the years. Community assistance is needed to try to overcome these issues. If you can help with photos and/or names, your help would be greatly appreciated. Photos can either be donated or if required can be scanned and returned. If you can help in any way at all or need further information, please contact Marie Stanton on 8852 8005 or mobile 0455 170 968 (Malcolm Stanton).

"AWESOME FUN WITH FISHING"

CATCHING SQUID

One of my favourite things to do is catching squid, it's great fun, you don't need a lot of gear, a fishing rod, some jigs and bucket and get going, now I've heard squid are colour blind, I don't believe that, if that's true, we're all being had by tackle makers. Why all the colours on jigs, (over 2,000). I believe that some colours excite squid into a feeding frenzy, but your timing is crucial.

Taking the kidz onto the jetty in the middle of the day in summer, is just madness. It's too hot, and kids get bored quickly. Dusk and Dawn are your best times, with kids, and if you've got the time, night squidding is great, just use a very bright torch or light source, squid are attracted to light. Take a range of colours and weights, the price of squid jags vary from 3 for 10 bucks, to $30 for one, but there is truth in the saying, you only get what you pay for.

Myself, I'm old school, I go tommie fishing first one day, then I know I got enough bait, a couple of hand lines and wire jigs, a float and I'm a happy camper, I haven't got the patience for casting and retrieving all the time. Plus I still get to fish whilst the squid line is in the water.

BEST PLACES FOR SQUIDDING AROUND EDITHBURGH.

The little jetty by the caravan park is not too bad on the turn of the high tide, the big jetty is awesome, just take a look at the black ink marks on it, the cliffs around the burgh aren't too bad, but make sure someone knows where you are and carry a phone, dusk and dawn being best times, Wool Bay, 13kms out of the burgh, near the silos, is a great place for squid, plus an added bonus, there's a safe beach for the littlies to play on. All I say is, get out there and have a crack, please take your rubbish home with you, have a safe and happy time. Tight lines guys.

Dev Patterson Park, our Native Tree Reserve

We are very privileged to have the Native Tree Reserve in Edithburgh. Walking through there this week-end, we have seen some wonderful birds. Yesterday, the red wattlebirds were making a noise in one of the platypus gums, so I wandered over towards it. A Barn Owl flew out and into another platypus gum nearby, but it was too well hidden to get a photograph.

The next morning started well, there was a female Red-rumped Parrot at the entrance off Edith Street. We walked towards the owl tree, but were distracted by a Spotted Harrier that flew on other side of the trees, again no photograph.

We were just leaving the Reserve when I heard the Purple-crowned Lorikeets calling near the entrance to the Reserve from Anstey Terrace and Cross Street. They are about half the length of a Rainbow Lorikeet. I watched them moving rapidly through a platypus gum feeding. Other Purple-crowned Lorikeets were grooming deep in the next tree. Altogether there were about 20 Purple-crowned Lorikeets. They spend a month or so here each year before heading north again.
